Conference venue:

Lodz, the former textile industry empire, today is a city of modern technologies, creative enterprises and grand cultural events. It is a metropolis where a landscape of industrial heritage mixes with office buildings, production halls and culture amenities. Truly unique urban fabric hosts plenty of attractive spots for free-time activities. Design, film, fashion, art and photography are words best describing cultural events hosted by Lodz. Nowadays Lodz is a third-largest city of Poland, a thriving economic and cultural centre, and one of the most important Polish academic centres.
