Dear SIETAR Europa Members,

The Events & Membership Committee along with the SIETAR Europa Board is happy to announce another SIETAR Europa webinar on 15th June at 6.00 PM CET 2015.

Home is where … International Career Coaching

Abstract

Working and living internationally – as an expatriate, expatriate partner or family member, business traveller or in other forms with international responsibility and cross-cultural exposure is a very common construction of the todays work and life.

As more as it seems to be common for all “travellers”, as more it seems that some of us struggle: with typical work and life issues, like time management, relationships … and the fact of being confronted with other cultures forces us to have a closer look at ourselves, our own culture and questions like: What is the sense of (my) life and my chosen role? Where is my home? What is home actually? What does it mean to me? How do I recognize it? Do I need a home-feeling at all?

The answer is “Yes”. We need a feeling of belonging, even if this belonging is only a minimum of certainty and identity in the moment of travelling around the world.

In this webinar I want to share and exchange with you international career coaching experiences, insights and helpful methods around the thought: “Home is where …”
